SOME enterprising business men
Have done the proper thing,
In toppling from his high estate,
Old Coal, the tyrant King.
Would Fortune have the gratitude
Of every soul in town,
She'll put her foot upon his neck
And keep the rascal down.

Hon. E. C. Phister.

The Clark County Democrat says:
Judge Phister, of the Maysville district, announces that he will not again be a candidate for Congress. Men die but rarely quit politics when once in. Judge Phister is serving his second term, and has been an eminently useful, valuable member. His services to the democratic party during the extra session of 1879 were never appreciated as they should have been. He was chiefly instrumental in saving it from making a great blunder but was too modest to claim the merit.

An Alleged Doctor in Trouble.

The Portsmouth (Ohio) Times says:

Last Tuesday, Dr. James Goodpaster, who professed to be a physician, from Maysville, Ky., was arrested at the instance of Dr. T. F. Davidson, Physician of the Board of Health, on the charge of producing an abortion upon Mrs. Lou Hamilton, who occupies a part of the Gerlach property, on Chillicothe street. The information upon which the arrest was made, was extracted from a colored man—Eugene Charity—with whom Mrs. Hamilton has been cohabiting for some time. As related by Charity, the fetus, about three months old, was found by Dr. Davidson, Sanitary Policeman, S. Lampman and officers Andrews, Gallion and Lucas, buried in the ground on Robinson avenue, in front of the residence of Hon. J. W. Bannan.

At the meeting of the Board of Health yesterday morning, Dr. Davidson was authorized to prosecute Goodpaster to the extent of the law, and in obedience to the mandates of that body, a preliminary examination was begun in the afternoon before Mayor Crawford, but after hearing several witnesses, a postponement was had until this morning at 9 o'clock. It would seem that the Maysville man is in a very bad box.

MAYSICK.

Miss Mollie Piper, of this place, gave quite a grand entertainment last Friday night, in honor of her guests and college mates, Miss Smith, of Owensboro, and Miss Withrow, of Midway, Ky. The parlors were crowded with the beauty and chivalry of the neighborhood. The fair hostess presided with a grace and ease that insured a pleasant evening to all who were present.

Promptly at eleven o'clock, the company were ushered into the spacious dining room, where a sumptuous feast, was spread. The tables were arrayed in most becoming style, a pyramid of flowers and fruits decked the center. Nor were the dainties lacking either in variety or quality. The evening passed off most enjoyably and everyone was eloquent, in praises of the occasion. Misses Withrow and Smith were the belles of the evening and worthy for their beauty, vivacious conversations and elegant bearing were sufficient to insure innumerable conquests.

Among the ladies present we noticed Miss Anna Cary who has just returned from Daughters' College, Harrodsburg, and Misses Laytham, Parry, Wells, Fountain, Shaufelin and others.

Among the gentlemen, were Dr. Davis, Charles and Richard Hopper, Sam Smith, Wilse Richeson, P. P. Parker, James Threlkeld, James Fitzgerald and others.

State of Lewis at Large.

The Lewis circuit court is in session. Judge Cole presiding, Joseph A. Sparks, circuit clerk, Thos. A. Curran, Commonwealth's attorney, Thos. C. Wilson, Sheriff. The docket is unusually small, the attendance large, but this is owing to political influences, the county and state tickets occupying more attention than litigation.

The new Garland House is carrying the traveling public on a boom.

General Vancleve, of Philadelphia, arrived here Sunday on his way to the Georgia conference, which he recently joined. General Vancleve has laid aside his implements of war and girded on the sword of righteousness and now devotes himself to the service of his master. His discourses at the Methodist church South Sunday night was the loftiest utterances ever heard in that church. The General's delivery is dramatic, evidently he has been on the stage. His singing transcends anything ever offered to this community. He preaches here during the week.

Miss Cora Gates, one of the most beautiful and cultivated young ladies of the great Kanawha Valley has been visiting Miss Maude Burns of Concord, and Miss Annie Henry, of Vanceburg, returned home on the Bostona Sunday. The boys are sighing.

The vendors of the steamer Fanny Dugan paid two calls on Captain J. C. Agnew, of the steamer Return, and offered to buy or charter his steamer at very fancy prices. Captain Agnew comes to stay.

A Frontier Humorist.

Away on the extreme western frontier, in the foot hills along Green River, Gen. Forsythe, of Sheridan's staff, found a humorist during an inspection tour. He came upon a solitary station-keeper, who lived in a hut containing four stalls for animals, and a combination parlor, kitchen and sleeping apartment, six by ten feet in size. Over the door outside was in huge letter: "Hotel de Starvation, one thousand miles from hay and grain, seventy miles from wood, and fifteen miles from water." The walls of the room were decorated with pictures cut from police publications. Over the door inside, in charcoal letters a foot in length, were the words: "God Bless Our Home;" and in another place the notice: "Wanted—A nice young girl for general housework. Apply within."
